In 16th running, race through Cape is as sweet as ever

A light rain fell just as the first runners completed the 16th TD Beach to Beacon 10K road race on Aug. 3, but crowds lining the 6.2-mile course from near Crescent Beach to Portland Head Light remained enthusiastic and encouraging until the last of a record 6,244 runners finished.

Runners flocked to our beautiful town for the now-famous race from 16 countries, 39 states and more than 250 Maine communities.

You can find details and official results at beach2beacon.org and coolrunning.com — and photos of lots of friends, neighbors and other Cape residents inside this issue.

Clockwise from top, Cape resident Andrew Lamberth, 26, who has run each of the 16 TD Beach to Beacon 10Ks, has fun heading to the finish with girlfriend Laurie Jevons of Latham, N.Y. on his back, prompting the race announcer to joke that they were likely winners of the Piggyback Division; members of Cape Elizabeth High School football team take part; and Cape resident Christina Kourous, 18, again wins the Women's Wheelchair Division, in 41 minutes, 17 seconds.

Recycling Committee seeks help to rescue Swap Shop

By Jessica Simpson, Cape Elizabeth Recycling Committee

Any recent visitor to the Swap Shop at the Cape Elizabeth Recycling Center will bemoan the fact that a town treasure is turning to trash.

Toys, puzzles, games — all piled high — the pieces spilled and thrown asunder, making them worthless. Bric-a-brac and household items beyond their last legs are placed there instead of either being tossed out or possibly recycled.

It may be that we are a victim of our own success. We all have a tale of scoring a great find, and have been conditioned that the hopper is the last place we want an item to go. Instead of trashing, we think, "Oh, maybe someone can use this for something" and we add it to a growing pile of what can, unfortunately, only be considered trash.

What can we do?

Implementing a few simple suggestions will begin to restore our space from trash to treasure. If bringing multiple items from home in a shopping bag, please remove the items from the bag and place them on the appropriate table or shelf instead of placing the bag on the floor or table. Then recycle the bag – there is a big “recycle barrel” in the corner by the last row of books. This way, the items in your bag won’t be tossed about and wind up on the floor. And, if each of us placed one misplaced item in its correct location during our visit, we would begin to restore order. If a stuffed animal is showing signs of wear, ask yourself: “Would this be something I would bring to my child or grandchild?” And if the answer is no, then please place it in the hopper and not the Swap Shop.

Swap Shop

Household items with parts – cords, tops, lids, etc. – also should be packaged to preserve the usefulness of the item. Taping down a cord or lid will truly help. If any item is not in working order, or parts are missing, the destination is either the hopper, or a silver bullet if it is made of a recyclable material. Jigsaw puzzles, board games, plastic larger toys or any unboxed toy with parts should be packaged in a way that the integrity of the item remains for others to actually take home and enjoy. Place game pieces in ziploc bags inside the box and then place rubber bands around the outer box. Toys without boxes should have pieces taped to retain usefulness. Browsing at the Swap Shop is limited to residents and in fairness to all, to 15 minutes a day, one visit per day.

Children should be supervised and everyone should be encouraged to be respectful of the items and the rules for donating. The Recycling Center has a limited staff to manage what is a myriad of daily responsibilities and its volunteer members cannot be expected to supervise behavior of the public. However, people who blatantly abuse and violate the rules, such as overextending their stay or placing items such as tires and TVs (which require a fee) may be prohibited from using the Swap Shop. Let’s rescue our gem by using common sense, taking some preventative measures, and exercising personal responsibility to return the Swap Shop to a place we can once again call a treasure.

You can help shape plans for library on Aug. 29

Dear Citizens of Cape Elizabeth, In February of this year, the Town Council appointed a committee of five dedicated citizens to develop a strategy to deal with the long-term needs of Thomas Memorial Library. In their charge, they were instructed by the Town Council to solicit public input as part of their work. You are strongly encouraged to attend the Library Planning Committee meeting to be held at the Cape Elizabeth High School cafeteria from 6:30 to 8 p.m. on Aug. 29. The Planning Committee is looking to inform the community of its work to date, but more importantly, its members need your insights. This is an opportunity for the citizens of Cape Elizabeth to shape the plan for the town’s library of the future, to better define its programs and services, and to determine the best option for the facility itself. The more broad and diverse the input and participation, the better job the committee will do in preparing its plan, so I hope to see you there! Jim Walsh, Town Council chair

Reader makes a plea to cat owners on behalf of songbirds

While peering through my binoculars at a female cardinal and sparrows on the ground beneath our backyard feeder this morning, I was shocked out of my bucolic mood by the sight of a black and white cat pouncing into view and onto the birds! Fortunately, my yelp startled the cat and saved the birds (or maybe it was the cat’s bad aim – let’s hope). Please, if you are the steward of a free-range cat, consider the birds and bell your cat to give the birds a chance at a getaway. Lynne Lovett

Judy’s Produce Pantry appreciates support from Rotary, Lions members, community

Judy’s Produce Pantry thanks both the Rotary Club of Cape Elizabeth-South Portland and the Cape Lions Club for their ongoing support with both donated food items and the necessary funds for us to purchase grocery items when donated supplies run low. The Rotary Club’s recent road race netted $500 for our pantry as well as supporting several other causes. The Lions Club has been donating the nonperishables from their donation box at the IGA. The pantry also thanks our wonderful Cape farmers, community gardeners and home gardeners for their generous donations of fresh produce. The pantry now serves about 30 Cape families each week that have limited resources and are trying to feed themselves and their families with healthy food. Participants include seniors living on Social Security or disability, single moms with children, those who have lost jobs, those with high medical expenses, and other families whose income is not sufficient to purchase healthy food. For more information, please contact me at nmiles@maine.rr.com or 767-1031. Nancy Miles

Resident: Cape’s EMTs are ‘just plain awesome!’

I am so grateful to the outstanding emergency service personnel in this town and want to say how appreciative I am for their assistance last week when I became ill. We are so lucky here to have the finest EMT personnel and others who are so kind, professional and helpful when we need them. They are a fantastic group of professionals! I especially want to thank Maryanne Denison, who helped make my ride to the

E.R. bearable with her assurances. I also want to thank our dear, amazing friend Carl Pearson, who is the most wonderful person anyone could be lucky enough to know. I cannot put into words how thankful and grateful I am to everyone. I am so lucky to live in Cape Elizabeth amongst these people, who are just plain AWESOME!! My deepest gratitude to everyone! Jill Marmorek

Spurwink Trail: A quiet retreat with a rewarding view

By the Cape Elizabeth Conservation Commission

This is part of a continuing series of articles on the town's greenbelt system of open space and trails. These trails are constructed and maintained by the Cape Elizabeth Conservation Commission, an all-volunteer seven-member board that reports to the Town Council and is dedicated to the preservation and the promotion of access to the public open spaces in town.

The commission meets on the second Tuesday of each month at Town Hall, and the public is always welcome.

The town owns more than 1,000 acres of open space. Much of this land is accessible to the public via 15-plus miles of greenbelt trails. Look for greenbelt signs (above) at all trailheads and also throughout the trail system to help you navigate your way on and through the trails.

A complete description of the trail system, including descriptions, maps and allowed uses can be found on the town website at www.capeelizabeth.com under "Most Viewed" and "maps."

Spurwink Trail

Most people flock to the ocean during our beautiful Maine summer. But if you're looking for a quieter retreat, the approximately one-mile Spurwink Trail may be for you.

The trail skirts the edge of the Spurwink Marsh and the fields of the town farm. It is a loop that begins and ends at different locations along Spurwink Avenue. The three main access points are just south of the branch of the Spurwink River (across from the sewer treatment plant), at the cluster of trees extending from Spurwink Avenue across the fields, and on the north side of Pollack Creek.

The trail generally follows the edge of the mowed field, but at its southern end, it slips into the woods and runs along the edge of the marsh. The reward for following this low-lying section is the view of the marsh as the trail rises to a lightly wooded point nestled between the marsh and the northern side of Pollack Creek. From that point, the path meanders along the creek back to Spurwink Avenue, just before the guardrail. Trail users should be respectful as they pass along several colonial gravesites.

The trail surface is grassy in the field, but once you enter the woods can be muddy with exposed roots.

Draft of Greenbelt Plan almost done

By Town Planner
Maureen O'Meara

The town Conservation Commission is working to complete the draft Greenbelt Plan so that it can be sent to the Town Council. Committee members have discussed the public comment received and will continue their review of the document and potential trail links.

Conservation Commission meetings are held the second Tuesday of the month in Town Hall.

Two Lights Trail

Many of the public comments express concern with how the trails may expand. The most recent draft includes case studies of how trails have been expanded since the 2001 Greenbelt Plan was adopted.

The second case study features the Two Lights Trail, which extends from Two Lights Road, across from the strawberry field, east to the Broad Cove trails.

The 1980s Spinnaker Heights Subdivision included a 15-foot-wide pedestrian easement extending from Two Lights Road, ending at land occupied by St. Bartholomew's Church.

The back corner includes a picturesque pond. The Roman Catholic Diocese granted the town a five-year easement around the pond that connected the Spinnaker Heights easement to Highlands Subdivision open space.

When the 2001 was adopted, the St. Bart's easement was one of five priorities because it would expire if a trail was not constructed within five years. An abutter, who operates a preschool in her home, objected to the trail connection. Objections made at the time included:

- Loss of privacy
- Parents concerned with safety of school
- People already use another trail nearby
- No way to create a buffer
- Questioning the sincerity of the Conservation Commission to minimize the impact of the trails on homeowners
- Easements not easily obtained; do not let the easement lapse

In 2013, a trail boardwalk was reconstructed in a partnership with the Boy Scouts. The new comment from the preschool was, "We are so lucky to have them [trails] right behind our school to enjoy every day."

The Conservation Commission is continuing to accept emails and letters and also allows 15 minutes of public comment at the beginning of each meeting. Once complete, the draft Greenbelt Plan will be forwarded to the Town Council for consideration.

A sweet and simple equation: Lemonade = Trees

Julian Edwards, 10, and his sister, Priya, 7, below, have raised $300 this summer to donate to American Forests.

Every dollar they earned selling lemonade outside their Kettle Cove neighborhood home has equaled one tree planted. "Julian wanted to raise enough money to plant a forest, and he has," said their mother, Amanda Edwards. "They worked very hard."

Triathlon participants from the 2012 Tri for Preservation begin the race with a 500-yard swim in the waters of Crescent Beach State Park. This year's event takes place Aug. 18 at Crescent Beach and benefits the land conservation work of the Cape Elizabeth Land Trust.

Tri for Preservation on Aug. 18 at Crescent Beach benefits CELT

The 2013 Tri for Preservation, sponsored by Noyes, Hall & Allen Insurance, is set for 7:30 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 18 at Crescent Beach State Park.

Now in its third year, the Tri for Preservation features sprint distance triathlon, aquabike and duathlon competitions as well as a team-relay triathlon competition.

Executive Director Chris Franklin says the July Paint for Preservation event and the Tri for Preservation are designed to bring attention to the Cape Elizabeth Land Trust's land conservation work and to raise funds for its nonprofit conservation mission."

In each of the last two years, the Tri for Preservation attracted more than 300 participants and twice as many spectators and volunteers. This triathlon consists of a 500-yard ocean swim along the well protected cove of Crescent Beach.

Participants then transition to a 14.5-mile, rolling bike course past scenic farmlands, woodlands and marshlands. The course concludes with a 3.1-mile run along the shore of Crescent Beach toward Kettle Cove and back along Route 77.

The Tri for Preservation Aquabike is ideal for those who want to compete but do not run. The aquabike features the same swim and bike course as the triathlon, but the aquabike concludes upon return to the transition area after the bike leg of the race.

The Tri for Preservation Duathlon is designed for nonswimmers and features a 1.5-mile run followed by the same 14.5 mile bike and a 3.1 mile finishing run.

Swimmers, runners and bikers who do not do triathlons also have the option to form a team to compete with friends and family.

Pancake Breakfast

After the race, CELT and the Cape Elizabeth Lions Club will host a beachside pancake breakfast for all athletes, followed by an awards ceremony. The breakfast is free to participants and available to spectators for $5. Proceeds benefit the Cape Elizabeth Lions Club.

Registration

Race registration includes race-entry fee, a pancake breakfast, choice of race beach towel or T-shirt, park access for the day, and sponsor gifts. Go to www.capeandtrust.org/triathlon to register and for more information.

Nomination papers available for Town Council, School Board seats

Nomination papers for the Nov. 5 municipal election are available at the town clerk's office.

The deadline for submitting papers is 4 p.m. Friday, Sept. 6.

Two seats on the Town Council and two seats on the School Board will be open. All are three-year terms that run from December 2013 to December 2016.

They are currently held by Councilors Frank Governali and Caitlin Jordan and School Board members Michael Moore and Mary Townsend.

To qualify for office, you must be a registered voter in Cape Elizabeth and residency in Cape is required during term of office. Between 25 and 100 signatures of registered voters in Cape Elizabeth are required to be nominated for office.

Go to www.capeelizabeth.com for details. Town Clerk Debra Lane's office is open 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Mondays and 7:30 to 4 p.m. on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays. She can be reached at debra.lane@capeelizabeth.org or 799-7665.

Primo Cubano will perform live Cuban dance music at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 22 on the library's front lawn.

Last outdoor concert features ‘Primo Cubano’

The library’s final outdoor summer concert will feature lively Cuban dance music by the band Primo Cubano. Formed in 2006 by Paul D’Alessio after an inspiring visit to Brunswick’s sister city, Trinidad de Cuba, Primo Cubano is a five-piece band committed to rendering Cuban “Son” faithfully for audiences who otherwise would probably not be able to experience it live. “Son” is the primary contributor to the blend of Latin styles known as Salsa. Primo Cubano is honored to be able to re-create it live for audiences in Maine and beyond. The concert will take place from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 22 on the library’s front lawn. If it rains, the concert will be moved indoors. More information about the band, including videos of live performances, can be found on the library’s website.

Library now offers downloadable audiobooks for kids, teens

In January, the library launched its subscription to OneClickdigital, a service from Recorded Books that offers thousands of audiobooks that can be downloaded directly to computers and mobile devices. The titles initially available to Thomas Memorial Library patrons were mostly adult fiction and non-fiction. As of last month, a partnership with the Cape Elizabeth School Department has made it possible for the library to provide a full library of audiobook titles for children and teens. All you need to download any of the titles for adults, children, or teens is a valid Thomas Memorial Library card. The titles included in the subscription are compatible with Apple devices such as iPods and iPhones, as well as other MP3 devices. All of the books in OneClickdigital are available for immediate download, with a self-determined checkout period of up to three weeks and are renewable after the initial loan period has expired. To access this service, visit the Thomas Memorial Library’s website and click on the OneClickdigital icon. First-time users will need to use their library card to set up a free account.

Final Naked Shakespeare show Aug. 20

The last of three delightful performances by “Midsummer Merriment: A Sumptuous Feast of Verse” by the Naked Shakespeare Co. will be at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 20. As in the first two shows, this one will feature comic scenes and speeches from different Shakespeare plays. Naked Shakespeare is Acorn Productions’ acting company dedicated to presenting Shakespeare’s works in non-traditional venues and without lights, sets, or costumes. The performances are intended for adults and teens and, weather permitting, will take place in the library’s backyard garden.

World Music with Duquette is Aug. 22

“World Music with Rob Duquette,” which usually takes place on the third Thursday of the month, will be held from 10:30 to 11:15 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 22 this month. That’s because the library will be closed Aug. 15 for the town’s annual Staff Development Day.

Stepping into the Sesquicentennial

Edward I. Woodbury

A Cape Courier series by Cape Elizabeth resident Ellen Van Fleet follows the Civil War through the eyes of people who lived in Cape Elizabeth 150 years ago, when the Civil War was in its third year. Using Portland author Paul Ledman's book, "A Maine Town Responds," as the main guide, the series includes both short entries from the Portland Transcript, a newspaper, and letters from a local soldier who served on the western front. Items from the Portland Transcript and from soldiers' letters are reported verbatim.

Aug. 15, 1863: A train of six covered wagons filled with Gypsies entered Ellsworth last week, and in half an hour the females were visiting the stores and offices seeking out such persons as wanted their fortunes told. [Portland Transcript]

✎ Mrs. Lincoln and her two sons are at the White Mountains. The President is not going to join them as has been reported. [Portland Transcript]

✎ A 15-inch Rodman gun for Fort Scammel, which arrived here last week, has attracted much attention on Railway Wharf. It is one of the "dogs of war" that looks as if it might have a very loud bark. It weighs 25 tons, throws a ball weighing 460 pounds, and requires 50 pounds of powder for a charge. [Portland Transcript]

✎ A living infant was found among the dirt in Prospect Street, on Friday week. This is the second abandoned infant which has been found within three weeks. Both are at the Alms House in want of mothers. [Portland Transcript]

August 22, 1863: Saco Pool, Old Orchard Beach, and other watering places on this coast are this season unusually thronged with visitors. In this vicinity, on the islands and at the Cape, all the hotels and boarding houses are crowded. [Portland Transcript]

✎ New music: We have received the following popular songs from the publishers, O. Ditson & Co., Boston: "We'll fight for Uncle Abe" and "Wanted – a Substitute." [Portland Transcript]

✎ There were over 900 deaths in the city of New York in the first week of August. A large number were caused by the intense heat. [Portland Transcript]

✎ The Portland Steam Packet Company declined to receive any remuneration for use of the steamer Forest City which they sent so promptly to assist in the recapture of the Caleb Cushing. The government expected to pay for the service so nobly rendered, but ... this is declined. [Portland Transcript]

✎ Gardiner F. Hanson, rigger, of this city, was seriously injured by a fall from the ship Ocean Favorite, on the marine railway at the Cape, last Friday. His face was badly bruised and his skull fractured, but it is thought he will recover. [Portland Transcript]

✎ Foreign – Some of the leading English papers, always favorable to the rebels, are giving up the cause of the South as virtually lost. A great change is going on in public opinion, and it is even said that the British government will now take active measures to prevent the fitting out of privateers in their harbors. [Portland Transcript]

August 29, 1863: Look out for clumsy alterations of one dollar bills on the State bank, Augusta. Some of them have made their appearance changed to fives. [Portland Transcript]

An 1863 fall election showed "anti-war, anti-Lincoln sentiment was strong among Cape Democrats in 1863" with a Republican gubernatorial candidate garnering only 50.4 percent of the vote in town. Anti-war sentiment would "gain even more strength as more calls for men were issued."

Editor's note: Cape Elizabeth resident Scott Dyer Jordan left his wife Judith and their three children in 1863 to serve as a naval ensign in the Civil War. From 1847 to 1853 he was a mariner, plying trade routes in New England, England, the West Indies, the Caribbean and the southern coast of the United States. While at sea he sent many letters home describing his voyages. After the war, he settled down to farming and served for a while as the superintendent of Cape Elizabeth Poor Farm. He wrote the following letter aboard the ironclad ship, the Carondelet.

U.S. Steamer Carondelet

Aug 11, 1863

Dear Wife,

[After explaining that the furlough he hoped to get was unlikely as he had not yet served a full year, Jordan wrote]:

... However I shall do my best to get home sooner on your account. ... When one stops to consider the circumstances in our case I don't know that we ought to find any fault even if we are separated for a year. We enjoyed 11 years of happiness together which was as perfect as ever was the lot of mortals to enjoy. And even this separation is with the idea of our future happiness. It is necessary to gain some of this world's goods in order to be prepared to live. And it is a pleasure for me to do it. I am willing to deprive myself of the

'I am one of a great many ... willing to serve their country and to obey their superiors in everything which tends to restore our Glorious Free institutions and free the slaves.'

pleasures of the society of my family for a time if by doing I can derive a permanent benefit. I am one of a great many thousands that are away from their homes & families and I suppose all of them look forward with pleasure to the time when they will meet them again as I do, yet willing to serve their country and to obey their superiors in everything which tends to restore our Glorious Free institutions and free the slaves. Nothing short of this will full satisfy me.

I am Patriot enough to do this without considering it a task either. Though some things of course are unpleasant I think you will agree with me in my thinking I owe my country a duty at this time and it is a pleasure to serve in so good a cause. I think you will not allow yourself to be despondent & gloomy in regard to it. But quite the reverse. I know your principles in regard to the country are as loyal as mine. And for that reason I think you will put up without complaint what others might not. And I have faith to believe that you, when you consider all circumstances fully, will be as willing to have me serve as I am willing to serve. We have the privilege of writing to each other and of hearing of each other often. I prize this privilege beyond value for were it not for receiving letters from you I know I could not content myself away from home 30 days.

Now that you may be contented and happy is the constant wish of your Affectionate husband Scott. D. Jordan

CEEF to present teacher awards on Thursday, Aug. 29

The Cape Elizabeth Education Foundation will present two staff awards at a gathering that will begin at 8 a.m. on Thursday, Aug. 29, in the Cape Elizabeth High School cafeteria. All are invited.

The Tim Thompson Award, established by Cape residents Nancy and Tim Thompson in memory of their son, Timmy, who passed away in the summer of 2004 after graduating from CEHS, goes to a staff member in a mentoring position who has made a difference in the lives of students during the past school year. The second award, named in honor of retired CEHS math teacher Elaine Brownell, goes to a staff member for outstanding implementation of a CEEF grant.

Both awards include a $2,000 cash gift and a glass apple. The foundation, a nonprofit, seeks to fund innovative programs that fall outside the Cape school budget. Go to www.ceef.us for more information.

MSPA's mum sale to begin on Sept. 3

The Cape Elizabeth Middle School Parents Association's annual chrysanthemum fundraiser, which will feature mums in three colors, will begin Tuesday, Sept. 3, and run through Friday, Sept. 13.

White, yellow, and burgundy mums in 8.5-inch pots will be available for $8.50 each or $7.50 for purchases of eight or more plants. MSPA members will deliver local orders of six or more mums free of charge.

Order forms will be available at the middle school's front office at the start of school, Sept. 4, or through sale co-chair Jane Bozek at 799-2634 or boowaz3@maine.rr.com.

Cash or checks made out to "MSPA" should be placed with order forms in envelopes marked "MSPA Mums," stapled to forms and returned to the CEMS front office, or mailed to "MSPA, Cape Elizabeth Middle School, 14 Scott Dyer Road, Cape Elizabeth, ME 04107."

Pickup is planned from 2 to 6 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 19 at the Community Center. All proceeds will fund teacher grants at the middle school.

Close Buy fundraiser to benefit CEMS outdoor education

Cape Elizabeth Middle School students will sell Maine-made products from the Close Buy catalog from Tuesday, September 3, through Wednesday, Sept. 25, during the school's annual fall fundraiser.

Products range from jewelry and home goods to skin products, specialty food items, and products for children, pets and outdoors. Orders will be delivered in time for the December holidays.

All proceeds from the sale will benefit the middle school's outdoor education programs, including the sixth-graders' annual four nights at the Chewonki Foundation Environmental Education Center in Wisconsin.

Field hockey team's bottle drive on Sept. 14

Cape Elizabeth High School field hockey players will hold their team's annual bottle drive from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday, Sept. 14. Players will canvas Cape neighborhoods collecting bottles.

Money raised through the drive will help fund costs not covered by the school budget, including pay for an assistant varsity coach and expenses for goal repair and goalie equipment.

Residents are asked to leave their bottles bagged for pickup at the end of their driveways by 8 a.m. or drop them off at the Cape Elizabeth High School parking lot between 8 a.m. and noon.

Email cefieldhockey@gmail.com or call Impy Altnauer at 510-7728 for more information about the drive.

School bus schedules to be posted online on Friday, Aug. 16

Bus schedules for Pond Cove, Cape Elizabeth Middle and Cape Elizabeth High schools will be posted on the Cape Elizabeth School Department's website on Friday, Aug. 16.

"Please note the changes in bus stop locations and route numbers," said Cape Elizabeth Facilities and Transportation Department system scheduler Pat Fowler.

Go to www.cape.k12.me.us, and click on the "Opening of School Information" link located at the top of the home page.

School will start on Tuesday, Sept. 3.

Contact Pat Fowler at pfowler@cape-elizabethschools.org or 799-9574 for more information.

Driving class for seniors Aug. 31 at fire station

South Portland/Cape Elizabeth TRIAD will host a driving class for senior citizens from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 31, at the Cape Fire Department at 2 Jordan Way.

Upon completion of the class, seniors will be eligible for a reduction on car insurance costs. People who took the class more than three years ago must take it again to be eligible for the reduction. The cost is $12 for AARP members, and $14 for others. AARP members must bring a card.

Refreshments will be provided. Contact South Portland Police Officer Robert Libby at 799-5511, extension 7422, or Cape Elizabeth Police Officer Mark Dorval at 767-3323 to register.

TRIAD, which is made up of Cape and South Portland seniors, police, and community members, work together to address problems faced by older citizens.

Register Fido, Fluffy for Village Crossings' Aug. 24 dog show

Village Crossings will hold a community dog show, at 2 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 24. All community members are invited to bring pets.

At the fundraiser, which will benefit the Animal Refuge League, dogs will be judged in many categories, and prizes will be given to all participants.

The event will include live music and refreshments. There will be a $5 registration fee, and up-to-date vaccination records will be required for all dogs.

Village Crossings, an assisted living center for senior citizens, is located at 78 Scott Dyer Road. Call Kathy Wiley at 799-7332 to register or get more information.

Inaugural ‘3 on 3’ basketball tournament to run from Sept. 9-29; will include four divisions

The Cape Basketball Association is organizing a “3 on 3” double-elimination basketball tournament from Sept. 9-29. The competition, which will include games on outdoor and indoor courts around town, will be made up of four divisions: a coed division of fifth-graders and younger; boys’ and girls’ six-to-eighth-grade divisions, and a coed division open to high school students and adults.

Teams will be made up of three to five players, and players can participate in more than one division. Each team in the open division must have at least one female on the court at all times.

Championship games will be played the afternoon of Sunday, Sept. 29, with an official scorer, timer and referees at Cape Elizabeth Middle School. A portion of proceeds will go toward the improvement of outdoor basketball opportunities in town.

The fee per player is $10, and players must fill out a registration form. Contact Gregg Frame at 671-0758 or gframe@tmfactors.com for a form or more information.

Newly formed SP/CE Buy Local plans ‘Signature Event’ on Aug. 17 at Bug Light Park

The recently formed SP/CE Buy Local will hold its first annual “Signature Event” at Bug Light Park in South Portland from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 17.

The festival will include activities for all ages, including a visit by Clifford the Big Red Dog and a bounce house; and South Portland and Cape Elizabeth vendors will be present, offering everything from food and drink to haircuts.

The South Portland Buy Local formed in 2010 to support South Portland’s locally owned businesses. This year, the organization changed its name to “SP/CE Buy Local” after hearing from members about the strong relationship between South Portland and Cape Elizabeth’s members and businesses.

A rain date is planned from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 18. The date will be announced on the organization’s Facebook page the morning of Aug. 16. Parking will be available on Madison Street before entering Bug Light Park.

Cape resident Ellie Speh now Rotary president

Cape Elizabeth resident Ellie Speh was recently named president of the Rotary Club of South Portland-Cape Elizabeth. Speh, who will serve through July 1, 2014, succeeds Bob Flynn.

The club is comprised of more than 60 working men and women of all ages and backgrounds who are committed to doing service on both the local and international level.

Through projects and yearly fundraisers that include an annual Christmas tree sale at Mill Creek Park in South Portland and South Portland's Winterfest, Rotary members have been able to provide assistance to food cupboards; scholarships for Cape Elizabeth, South Portland and Southern Maine Community College students; and veterans' initiative programs. Recent projects include the design process for a children's garden at the Arboretum at Fort Williams and the funding and building of a new skating shelter at Mill Creek Park.

Also serving on the board are Flynn, Dave Bagdasarian, Paul Butler, Kathy Cot-

Ellie Speh, who was named president of the Rotary Club of South Portland-Cape Elizabeth on July 1, met Rotary International President Ron Burton, a Norman, Okla., resident, at Sable Oaks in South Portland last year during the club's 50th anniversary celebration.

ter, Anamaria Gonzalez, Nancy Irving, Scott Irving, Brian Murphy, Bill Phillips and Chuck Redman.

The club always welcomes new members interested in serving their communities. Go to Rotary International's site at www.rotary.org or the club's website at www.sp-cs-rotary.org, or contact Brian Murphy at murphybrianm@gmail.com for more information.

'Jesus Christ Superstar' at Portland Players

The musical, "Jesus Christ Superstar," will kick off the Portland Players' 2013-2014 season on Friday, Sept. 13. It will run through Sunday, Sept. 29 at the theater, located at 420 Cottage Road in South Portland.

Jamie Lupien Swenson directs the musical, a rock opera with lyrics by Tim Rice and music by Andrew Lloyd Webber. The musical is based loosely on the Gospels' accounts of the last week of Jesus Christ's life, beginning with the preparation for the arrival of Jesus and his disciples in Jerusalem and ending with the crucifixion. It highlights political and interpersonal struggles between Judas Iscariot and Jesus.

Performances are at 7:30 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays, and at 2:30 p.m. on Sundays. Tickets are $20 for adults, $18 for senior citizens, and $15 for students, who must have identification.

Call 799-7337 or email info@portland-players.org for tickets or more information.

Annual art show Sept. 1 at Fort Williams

Fort Williams Park will be transformed into a gallery during Labor Day weekend.

The 46th annual Engine 1 Co. Labor Day Art Show, which will feature more than 100 artists, photographers, and craftsmen displaying works of diverse styles, will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday, Sept. 1, with a Sept. 2 rain date.

Admission and parking will be free. Artists interested in participating in the show must apply, and the registration fee is $90.

Go to www.capeelizabethfireescue.com/artshow.php or email cefdeng1@maine.rr.com to get registration forms and get information about rules.

The event will benefit Engine 1 Co., which is housed in the Cape Cottage Station at 552 Shore Road and consists of 30 paid, on-call firefighters.

Courier travels to another Cape

Kelsey Maguire, a member of the Class of 2015 at Bowdoin College in Brunswick, was named a Sarah and James Bowdoin Scholar for the 2012-2013 school year. Students who are ranked in the top fifth of their class receive the designation. A 2011 Cape Elizabeth High School graduate, Kelsey is the daughter of Gwyneth and Richard Maguire.

Katherine Haley was named to the spring-semester dean's list at Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. A member of the Class of 2010 at Cheverus High School in Portland, she just completed a semester abroad at the university's Rome campus. She is the daughter of Ed and Judy Haley.

The Courier and the capybaras

Cape resident Susan Dana, a Cape Elizabeth Middle School Spanish teacher who did a three-week teacher exchange program this summer in Uruguay, reads The Courier at the Reserva Indígena in Solis, Uruguay. "There are capybaras everywhere and they are docile, very content to wander around and eat grasses. I was impressed by their size, some as big as pigs, and by how close you can approach them. The students were surprised that I was so intrigued by them because they are very common here." All teachers and students wear the tunic that Dana is wearing in the photo "along with five layers of clothing," Dana said. "It's winter here and there is no central heat."

Cape Elizabeth resident Pam Bolduc, general manager of the Olive Garden in South Portland, recently received Darden Restaurants' top honor, the Joe R. Lee Diamond Club Award, given annually to general managers in North America who provide an outstanding dining experience and achieve top financial performance.

"Pam is a passionate leader who inspires her team," said Dave George, president of Olive Garden.

Darden Restaurants is the world's largest full-service restaurant company, owning and operating more than 2,100 restaurants and employing more than 200,000 people.

Pam Bolduc

Abigail Flynn, a member of the Class of 2014 at Union College in Schenectady, N.Y., was named to the dean's list for the 2012-2013 year. Abigail, who is majoring in political science and French and Francophone studies, is a 2010 Cape Elizabeth High School graduate.

Cape Elizabeth resident Michael O'Connor has joined Volunteers of America Northern New England as chief operating officer and vice president of external relations. O'Connor has 22 years experience in the private sector in strategy, technology consulting, and operations and risk management, most recently with TD Bank in Portland. He previously served on Volunteers of America's board of directors for 17 years, and for nine years as board chairman. Volunteers of America is a national nonprofit, spiritually-based organization that provides local human service programs and the opportunity for individual and community involvement. The Northern New England organization serves Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Michael O'Connor

Rachel L. Nichols was named to the spring-semester dean's list at Virginia Tech in Blacksburg, Va. A member of the Class of 2015, she is majoring in marketing management in the Pamplin College of Business.

The Courier's sporty summer

Fly-fishing in Labrador

Cape Elizabeth residents Lydia and Stephen Murray and their dog Hunter display The Cape Courier last month at their family's fly-fishing lodge, Riverkeep, in Labrador. "We have guests there throughout the summer who come from all over," their mom, Cathy Murray, said. "The kids spent five weeks there this summer helping us run the lodge."

Cycling in France

Golf in Scotland

Cape Elizabeth resident Peg Aikman shows off her Cape Courier last month at the Open Championship in Muirfield, Scotland.

Still powering your household with fuses?

Fused systems are safe if used properly. 15-amp-rated wire can only be fused with 15-amp-fuses. Over-fusing causes fires. If the proper-sized fuse keeps blowing, you may need an additional circuit installed. Call us for branch circuit installations or upgrades to circuit breakers.

WHAT THE HECK IS AN 'ORGANIC MATTRESS'? AND WHAT'S THE BIG DEAL?

The big deal is that the modern family should be sleeping on organic mattresses because the typical mattress you buy contains:

- Polyurethane
- Stain-resistant and flame-retardant chemicals
- Cotton grown with pesticides
- Latex made from petroleum

Guess how many of those are in an organic mattress? Zero. And ... it's hypoallergenic.
